frequently in the future, such as bio-technological drugs and vaccines, artificial intelligence, robots that will take on important tasks in mass production processes, financial innovation technologies, big data, globalization defined according to changing conditions and the restructuring of businesses. You will interpret these with your perspective and shape your and our future.

What awaits you at TOBB ETÜ?

- When you start your undergraduate education, your theoretical knowledge will advance with the up-to-date technologies and our strong academic staff.
- You will be prepared for life by taking lessons in every field developed with an emphasis on practice.

Dear Students,
