

Industrial Engineering Undergraduate Program Adaptation (Transition) Rules

Important Information: The END101 course will be offered only in the Fall Semester during the 2026–2027 Academic Year. In subsequent academic years, it will only be offered in the Spring Semester.

Adaptation Plan:

- END106 course will be offered for the last time in the 2026–2027 Spring semester.
- END409 course will be offered for the last time in the 2026–2027 Summer semester.
- Students who started the department program in the 2026–2027 Fall semester or later are responsible from the new curriculum.
- Students who have taken and passed the END409 course are exempt from the END309 course.
- Students who have not taken END409 and who started the department program in the 2025–2026 Fall semester or later will take the END309 course.
- Students who have taken END409 and failed, OR who wish to retake it, may take END409 in the 2026–2027 Summer semester. If they pass END409, they will be exempt from END309. If they fail END409, they must take the END309 course.
- Students eligible for the Additional Graduation Exam (Mezuniyet Ek Sınavı - MES) for END409 may exercise their MES right for the END409 course.
- Students who have not taken END409 and whose enrollment/start semester in the department is the 2024–2025 Summer semester or earlier may take END409 in the 2026–2027 Summer semester. If they pass END409, they will be exempt from END309. If they fail END409, they must take the END309 course.
- Students who have taken and passed END106 are exempt from the BSD-2 course.
- Students who have taken and failed END106 may take END106 in the 2026–2027 Spring semester. If they pass END106, they will be exempt from BSD-2. If they do not take END106, they must take and pass BSD-2. If they take END106 and fail, they will be granted one additional exam right at the end of the semester. If they fail this additional exam, they must take the BSD-2 course.
- Students who wish to retake END106 may take END106 in the 2026–2027 Spring semester. If they pass END106, they will be exempt from BSD-2. If they take END106 and fail, they will be granted one additional exam right at the end of the semester. If they fail this additional exam, they must take the BSD-2 course.

- Students eligible for the Additional Graduation Exam (Mezuniyet Ek Sınavı - MES) for END106 may exercise their MES right for the END106 course.
- Students who have not taken END106 will take the BSD-2 course.
- Students who have taken and passed the İŞL353 course are exempt from the ÜSD-3 course.
- Students who have taken and failed İŞL353, OR who wish to retake it will take the ÜSD-3 course.
- The prerequisite for the END497 course for students who have previously taken END409 (passed or failed) is "successfully completing 3 of the following courses: END308, END395, END471, END409". For all other students, it is "having passed at least 2 of END395, END308, END309, and having taken END471".
- The prerequisite for the END396 course is END214 and BİL141 for students whose starting semester in the department is the 2026–2027 Fall semester or later; for all other students, the prerequisite is END214.
